

CURRICULUM VITAE

Masako Ii

Professor! Ii, Masako

[Education]

1986 International Christian University, BA

1993 University of Wisconsin, Madison, Ph.D in Economics

[Employment History]

1990 World Bank, Washington DC

1995 Yokohama National University, Faculty of Economics

2004 Hitotsubashi University

[Fields of Specialization]

Health Economics, Public Economics, Development Economics

[Present Research Themes]

Evaluation of Health Care Outcome, International Comparison of Health Care Systems among East Asian countries.

[Languages]

Japanese, English, Spanish

[Major Publications]

- [1] "Estimation of the Labor Participation and Wage Equation Model of Japanese Married Female by the Simultaneous Maximum Likelihood Method"(with Kazumitsu Nawata) ! Journal of the Japanese and International Economies, 18, 2004, pp.301-315
- [2] "Should the Coinsurance Rate be Increased in the Case of the Common Cold? An Analysis Based on an Original Survey"↵ with Yasushi Ohkusa↗ Journal of the Japanese and International Economies 16, 3, 2002, pp.353- 371
- [3] "Price Sensitivity of the Demand for Medical Services for Minor Ailments: Econometric Estimates Using Information on Illness and Symptoms" ↵ with Yasushi Ohkusa↗ The Japanese Economic Review 53, 2, 2002, pp.154-166

- [4] "Summary of Methods to Estimate Price Elasticity of Demand," Handbook for the Economics Analysis of Health Sector Projects, Asian Development Bank, pp.85-94. 2000.
- [5] "Enhancing the Effectiveness of External Assistance: Social Impact of Adjustment Programs," Proceedings for the Seminar for Deepening Structural Reforms and Policies for Growth in Africa, Ministry of Finance of Japan, IMF and the World Bank, Paris, France. 1996.
- [6] "The Demand for Medical Care: Evidence from Urban Areas in Bolivia," Living Standard Measurement Study (World Bank) Working Paper No.123. 1996.
- [7] "Japanese Health Care Reform in the Context of a Rapidly Aging Population," Health Sector Reform in Asia, Proceedings of a Regional Conference, Asian Development Bank, Manila, Philippines. pp.519-529,1995
- [8] "Community Perceptions and the Demand for Health Services, El Salvador," with Susan Kolodin, Inter-America Development Bank Working Paper.1994

[Messages to Students]