

Application Package
for the 2024 Master's Program
Foreign Service Sub-program (Global Governance)
School of International and Public Policy
Hitotsubashi University

Hitotsubashi University's mission is "to create intellectual and cultural property which will contribute to the building of free and peaceful political and economic societies in Japan and the world and to train those who will assume positions of leadership" (from Hitotsubashi University mission statement). Since its establishment, Hitotsubashi University has produced many highly talented graduates who have been active not only in Japan but also internationally. In this day and age, in which we face changes in the domestic and international order and a wide range of risks, we need concrete measures that are long-term and inclusive and a leadership that can put these measures into practice at both the domestic and the international level. In addition, with the international system centering on the nation state being shaken up, a comprehensive perspective that takes diverse aspects such as the nation, markets, and civil society into account is essential to formulate and implement public policies to fulfill the various needs of society.

The Foreign Service Sub-program (FSS) of the Global Governance Program aims to provide academic and professional education on international relations and foreign policy in English to students with significant awareness of foreign policy issues and enthusiasm to actively participate in various activities in the arenas of the international community. We aim to develop those engaged in foreign service or other relevant fields into higher-level professionals in the analysis, formulation, and implementation of policies. The program is open to those who wish to obtain a Master's degree in English in Tokyo. It is suitable for those who hold practical experience in the field of foreign services or other relevant professions. However, we also welcome students without a full-time work experience.
