

Speaker's profile

Dr. Guanghua Wan is Director of Institute of World Economy, Fudan University (IWEFU). Prior to IWEFU, he was Principal Economist at the Asian Development Bank, Project Director at UNU-WIDER, and taught in a number of universities in Australia and the People's Republic of China. Trained in development economics and econometrics, he has an outstanding publication record of more than 100 professional articles and a dozen books including two by Oxford University Press. He is an honorary professor at more than ten top institutions in the People's Republic China, including Fudan and Zhejiang Universities.